

Preface to Case Basics: Questions created by these documents and events relate to a mediation that was court-ordered by a divorce court judge in divorce court for community property in the divorce. This community property called Asyntria contained stock shares owned by three individuals: by Meigs, by the man she was divorcing, and by Johnston, CEO to Asyntria and CEO to his own personal company Straden Schaden and others.

Todd Frankfort represented Michael J Johnston and his companies. Bradford Allen Brady sometimes represented Asyntria. Sherri Evans first represented Wendy Meigs in divorce from Jody Meigs followed by Adam Morris. Michelle Bohreer and Todd Zucker first represented Wendy Meigs for corporate issues against Johnston's actions, followed by Rodney Castille and Bruce Jamison. Although written by Meigs, the blogs are written in third party narration to enhanced clarity.
