Combined Kitchen worktop/Dining Table

Titanium gold granite is a stunning natural stone and is a perfect centre piece for a kitchen worktop.

As featured here a kitchen worktop combined dining table with a waterfall edge.

Cristallos Gold is a remarkable, natural white and gold masterpiece. This stunning stone easily adds an elegant and luxurious feel into any room with its translucent surface, allowing it to be backlit, bringing the stone to life while illuminating your space with an eye catching glow.

Titanium Gold Granite features waves of brilliant golden tones against a strikingly black backdrop. Being a natural stone, it is well renowned for its long lifespan, sturdiness, low maintenance requirements, scratch resistance, and heat resistance.

“From start to finish, the process with Sharpstone has been amazing. They went above and beyond to ensure we achieve the finish we wanted.

I’m so happy with the overall look, Sharpstone have truly brought our vision to life.”

Patagonia Quartzite is known for its stunning range of colours and patterns. The colours it typically features are a combination of white, grey, beige, cream and brown tones with a hint of green. It is a versatile stone that can be used for both indoor and outdoor applications.

It is commonly used for kitchen worktops, flooring, wall cladding, and even tables which Sharpstone was able to create for this client. It is one of the hardest natural stones available, making it an excellent choice.

Its natural beauty and durability make it a popular product for homeowners and designers. Like any natural stone, Patagonia Quartzite requires proper care and maintenance to preserve its beauty. It is recommended to clean with mild soap and water to keep it looking its best.

PATAGONIA QUARTZITE - NIGHT BACKLIT STONE

The process of the PATAGONIA TABLE

Sharpstone done an onsite visit with the client and a steel fabricator.

This was a high spec job because of the outcome we needed to achieve. This was a 3m x 110cm table top. The table frame was custom made to be slimline, so it could support the stone as well as house the lighting panels creating a 360 degree effect.

Once the lighting was fitted to the steel frame. Sharpstone then came and carefully installed the stone on top, to create an elegant yet unique table.

Interview with Lydia Bright - TV Celebrity - ITV

Why did you choose to visit Sharpstone?

Lydia – I chose to visit Sharpstone because I have lots of friends that had gone to them previously for their stone for their kitchen worktops and they looked beautiful! I knew that they had a great selection of stone in-house and I'm one of those people that's very thorough. So if I look online for say, a kettle, I have to look at a 1000 kettles before I choose which one I want. So I wanted to go somewhere that had a massive selection. They're also local to me in Essex and I ended up finding this Vanilla Ice which is exactly what I wanted.

What attracted you to this specific stone?

Lydia – When I first moved into this house, this kitchen was very dark, there's no natural light. It was grey and black, so I wanted some nice bright colours but also a surface that had light reflecting properties in it so it could bounce all the light around.

How did you find the experience of it being fitted?

Lydia – With Sharpstone, I picked out my stone and got it fitted with them. I think it was really great to have everything done by one company; it made it seamless. I'm time poor. I'm a busy working Mum so to have a company that just did everything for me made life so much easier.

“Outstanding job by the guys at Sharpstone. Jack was really great at giving me ideas and helping with things I didn't understand. The fitters were also really professional and polite. Great job, will definitely be recommending to anyone having their worktops done.”

Do you have any tips for someone choosing their new worktop?

Lydia – “I would say my best tips for someone choosing a new kitchen worktop would be to think about how you're going to use it day to day. Choose something that cleans easily, this is why I was very adamant that I wanted to go with stone. I had a wooden worktop in the past and they are just a nightmare! It gets burnt, sauces and grime can get stuck in the wood grains.

So for me, it was very important I had a stone worktop and I would advise any busy, family household, stone is the best way forward, especially from Sharpstone.”

QUARTZ

Sharpstone's Quartz is scratch, heat and stain resistant. Unlike natural materials such as marble, quartz never needs to be sealed. Requiring minimum maintenance to keep it looking as good as new, the nonporous surface makes cleaning simple, with soap and water or a mild detergent is all that is needed.

Offering a versatile design solution appropriate for any setting, Sharpstone's Quartz is available in a choice of colours, with a polished or honed finish. In thicknesses of 20mm and 30mm, the surface comes in an extra-large format slab, allowing for greater consistency in design over large spaces such as kitchen worktops.

Quartz really does have that extra something about it, as well as being absolutely beautiful. A solid quartz worktop will add a unique touch of quality and style to your kitchen, bathroom or utility room. Quartz is one of the hardest materials available and is the perfect choice for a kitchen worktop surface.

GRANITE

Sharpstone's Granite is extrusive rock formed from cooled magma. Due to its natural origin, Granite has unique colour, character and beauty. This makes it a good choice to those who prefer a purely natural material with its breathtaking beauty and natural patterns.

Granite is a good choice for someone who prefers fully natural material with its genuine beauty and patterns and huge variety of colours. The natural stone look can be used in Contemporary, Classic or modern situations. One of the most popular materials for kitchens is granite worktops. Like quartz, this material is also very resilient. Granite is a natural rock that is cut in its natural state and is then polished for use in residential homes. Granite requires regular maintenance after each use to prevent staining on kitchen worktops. It is recommended to clean granite with warm water and soap to help keep its shine.

Granite is a strong material and is difficult to scratch, being able to resist temperature changes. Due to the nature of granite being a natural stone, it doesn't offer a wide range of colour options such as quartz and each piece is different. This often means kitchens need to be planned around the slab that is chosen. Planning a kitchen around a granite worktop is not a simple task but we at Sharpstone are specialists in planning and fitting granite worktops.

MARBLE

We have all seen marble at the back of a fireplace or even as the hearth and often it evokes a classic look to any period home. However, marble can look thoroughly modern in the right setting too, this includes your kitchen, bathroom, toilet or utility room. Although today, marble is used mainly for kitchens as more and more people discover the natural beauty of this stone product.

Marble has always had a natural beauty and has been worked into many different works of art.

This favourite material for sculpture can now form part of your home, making it not only look amazing, but add to the value of your property. Marble comes in many different patterns and colours and the patterns ranging from deep, distinct veins to subtle makes this natural stone the perfect selection for all times. Best of all, very little maintenance is required to keep this natural stone looking superb.

QUARTZITE

Quartzite is a metamorphic rock which is constructed from 100% quartz sandstone through a natural process called metamorphism. The quartz sandstone is put into an enormous amount of heat and pressure under the earth's ground. The result of this creates grains of quartz that are tightly compacted together, making the end product extremely tough and durable.

The difference between quartz and quartzite can be confusing since many people think they are just the same, however that is not the case. The difference between the two kitchen worktops is quite simple actually, quartzite is naturally made by mother nature while quartz is man-made. The two worktops do of course have similarities because they both share the same base quartz material.

We at Sharpstone have seen the demand for quartzite continue to increase in the last few years. It simply has the right blend of strength and beauty – stronger than granite and as elegant as marble.

BACK LIT STONES

A trend we are seeing more of (and we love!) is Backlit Stones being used for home bars, kitchen islands and even dining tables.

With their translucent, crystal make-up, stones such as Onyx and Cristalos have been used to create these eye-catching pieces. Sharpstone have become the go-to for light-up stones in recent years and we have honed our skills into producing some technical, but stunning pieces.

SHARPSTONE

LIGHT-UP BARS

Light-up home bars have become increasingly popular. Sharpstone offer all sorts of options from backlit fronts to inserts on the back. Whatever the idea, we can help you achieve it.

The colour options for these stones is slightly more limited. The great thing about using natural stone is that no two patterns are the same though. So no matter what colour you choose, no one will ever have the same exact pattern; making these custom pieces, entirely one of a kind.

With light-up stones, we can design a variety of different pieces: Whatever your imagination can think of! We've helped design and create many home bars, dining tables and even adorned walls with natural artwork.

If you want something that stands out from the crowd and catches the eye of guests then get in touch with us today.

Let us help design a one off piece that will be the envy of all that see it.

KITCHEN WORKTOP EDGE PROFILES

When choosing a kitchen worktop, an important decision many people forget to consider is the type of worktop edge they would like. Details such as this can make all the difference for adding a finishing touch to your kitchen. A Double Pencil or Double Bevel are great options for contemporary kitchens whilst edges such as Ogee and Dupont give a more sophisticated look. Consider a Bullnose or Half Bullnose edge to add the subtlety of curves which go well with sharp lines from modular kitchens.

See our edge profiles below. Want an edge which we haven't listed or something unique?

Drainer grooves are a popular choice these days for those after a minimalist kitchen work surface. The implementation involves carving a draining area directly into your new quartz, granite or marble kitchen worktop.

Drainer grooves stop the water from creeping along the counter top, getting the surface wet and eventually dripping onto your kitchen floor. By the inclusion of subtle grooves, water channels along the drainage area and lands into the sink.

The position, length and pattern can be selected by you to suit your needs. There are a few options when it comes to customisation – you can also decide whether you want them on the left or right side of your sink (or on both sides).

VEIN MATCHING

Vein matching is the process of arranging stone slabs so that the natural veins form a continuous pattern. This technique is often used for surfaces like countertops, walls, and floors to create a visually striking effect that highlights the beauty of natural stone.
