

You are a very busy HR Manager: urgent matters, complaints, criticisms... YOU are being asked for advises and solutions.

How do you feel in these moments?

2-day training

Coaching Posture for HR professionals

Wanna rather feel like that?

Objectives

This 2-day training aims at developing the coaching posture and providing essential tools that will help HR professionals:

- Conduct productive and constructive conversations and be equipped to help managers and employees in finding their own solutions
- be enabled to deal with complex issues, typical in this VUCA world
- become empowered to support Managers when it comes to developing people
- feel at better ease to cope with your clients' complaints and frustrations
- reinforce your position and act as sounding board and partner within your organisation.

Who should attend?

Any HR Manager in contact with the business willing to strengthen his/her positioning. This training is not for HR who are certified in coaching.

Our approach

Agilem's learning methods are foremost interactive and practical, and they reinforce self-awareness. Participants apply their learning and practice on their real cases and challenges. Transferring learning to the workplace is a priority of your trainers.

Trainers

Carine Andrey and Anne-Thérèse Ventura, two HR Professionals, certified and experienced coaches, co-facilitate training for a better dynamic and higher quality.
