Course Development, Terms, Licenced Materials and Copyright

i-act course materials, resources and models remain the property of i-act for positive mental health and wellbeing Ltd. No i-act materials, resources models or courses are to be reproduced in any way, re-used or sold on without prior written consent from i-act. All courses developed by i-act will remain the property of i-act and can only be delivered by an accredited i-act instructor who has the written certification, approval and licence agreements from i-act to deliver and use the i-act training course/material/model. i-act reserves the right to use and publish feedback from course participants along with the name of their organisation within promotional and informative materials unless the organisation expresses in writing that they do not wish this to happen. i-act engages with social media platforms throughout and after the training session to celebrate wellbeing initiatives such as training and development. This includes photography in training sessions. If you do not wish for your training sessions to be photographed and celebrated on social media platforms, please notify us at the time of your booking. i-act often uses participant feedback to promote training and development courses, this usually includes the name of the organisation, but not the individual. If you do not wish for feedback to be used in this way, please notify us at the time of your booking.

Your registration as an i-act manager/practitioner does not permit you to 'deliver' i-act training. i-act training can only be delivered by an accredited, approved and licenced i-act instructor. Any delivery of i-act training by any persons or organisations who are not approved to deliver i-act training may result in an infringement of copyright and registered trademark legislation and may result in legal action. For clarification and permissions you should contact i-act at info@i-act.co.uk
