

Bluebell Ride out April 27th 2019

Our first stop was at the famous Forge at North Wootton.

Always worth a visit to see the latest creations that Martin builds.

We then rode on to the Bluebells at Bulbarrow.

We were lucky as they were showing their shining vivid blue carpet of colours across the wood.

The coffee stop was next and we chose the Clipper Tea Rooms in the centre of Milton Abbas.

Quaint place with old fashioned tables laid with gingham cloths. Received excellent service too.

We then had a look around Milton Abbey before making our way home through Rhododendron Mile, also Poundbury.

Blustery but fine day for a ride out.
