

July 7th Aberystwyth

A pleasant ride up to Aberystwyth stopping at one of our usual coffee/comfort stops.

Made our way up and through the spectacular Elan Valley then over to Devils Bridge where we stopped at the Two Hoots cafe.

Big car park with miniature trains to view.

We then followed the mountain road Aberystwyth. On arrival found it was buzzing with bikes due to the glorious weather.

Next on to the the A44 which took us to the Red Kite Feeding Station.

Travelled through some more scenic passes with coffee stops on the way.

very enjoyable biking day!
