

Teacher's Notes

- Print your passport covers at a copy center on cardstock. Their color prints will hold up better than an at-home ink jet printer and can print the double sided option for you (with memory verse). Each sheet will have two passport covers. Choose either to print the blue passport covers or print black and white passport covers onto colored paper.
- Also print out a page of stamps for each student in your class. You may print them on full-page sticker paper (also available at copy stores) and avoid the gluing. You may choose to pass these out all at once or give them the city/region stamps as you go along Paul's travels.

- You will need to fill their passports with blank paper. Simply fold a standard 8.5"x11" sheet of white printer paper in half vertically and then cut that in half. 4-5 half sheets should be enough. Then staple once or twice on the center fold/spine. Copy centers also have large paper cutters and staplers that make these jobs easy.

- As you follow along with Paul's mission trips, glue in a passport stamp. Don't worry if they're not perfect, that makes them look more authentic! Depending on the age or your students, add in details related to that stop, such as:
 - Archaeological "souvenir" photos from the region
 - drawings about the story
 - Facts about the city or region. Make note if Paul visits more than once.
 - Corresponding Bible verses
 - Maps. You may want to glue one larger map on the back cover or inside page. You can copy a map from your Bible or find many nice versions online.
 - Write a Yelp! review for each location. What foods, businesses, points of interest were there in the time of Paul?
