

Hector's and Maui's Dolphins

Around New Zealand's coast, gillnetting and trawling bycatches are driving Hector's and Maui's Dolphins into extinction. With current world populations of 7,000 Hector's, and just 55 Maui's, the situation is critical. Please write to the contacts below.

Many of these addresses are of New Zealand MPs. fishing fleets and companies etc. These killings will continue if no-one opposes them, so do please make your opinions known. Let's do everything we can, write letters, pass this on to your friends, whatever it takes.

Thank you.
