

BBC. Winterwatch 2018 - Somerset Levels.

How many Lapwings and waterfowl do you typically see when you walk into the countryside these days? It's not as many as you're seeing in these clips. Go out for a walk and you'll see not much at all and yet when you turn on the telly there are birds everywhere. Just how old is this footage? It could be anything up to ten or even twenty years old.

Drip, drip, drip, drip, drip-feeding the nation into believing everything's fine. The media does not care, they simply want everyone to be blissfully unaware.

Don't believe images you see on the screen. Believe only what you see with your own eyes out there in the flesh so to speak.
