Episode Summary:	This is a CAN'T MISS episode! Ben Clench shares his long road to recovery AND rediscovery after a tragic car accident while on holiday in Haiti with his girlfriend. Going into a coma and suffering major brain injury, Ben defied the odds and not only survived, but THRIVED, finishing his 2nd Master's Degree, running a marathon, and writing a book capturing the details of his journey, called "Ben Again".
Questions (please note – these are not all the questions asked in the interview..)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - What was the toughest chapter in your recovery? - Name some things that inspired you to have hope and optimism, even in the DARKEST of hours? - Based on just your TedTalk title (“Follow the Patient”), what was the key thing you wanted the listeners to learn?
