3. The Donated Dental Service Program is still looking for more volunteers, particularly general practitioners. The program enables dentists to reach out to New York's most vulnerable residents – elderly, disabled and medically compromised people – who desperately need comprehensive dental care that they cannot afford. All patients are prescreened for eligibility and the volunteer dentist is never under any obligation to accept referred patients. The dentist determines the treatment plan and no extra paperwork is produced for the office staff. Funding for the program has been cut back in New York State but the city program is still in full effect and the waiting list is growing.

Consider signing up by going online to www.nfdh.org

GLOBAL DIAGNOSIS – A NEW VISION OF DENTAL DIAGNOSIS AND TREATMENT PLANNING

J. WILLIAM ROBBINS, DDS, MA

With the increased emphasis on interdisciplinary treatment in recent years, the deficiencies associated with traditional methods of diagnosis and treatment planning have become more evident and problematic. Historically, the treatment was primarily dictated by information provided by study casts which were mounted on a sophisticated articulator in centric relation. At that time in history, the primary tools available for treating the complex restorative patient were functional crown lengthening surgery and increasing the vertical dimension of occlusion. The treatment plan was simply based on restorative space, anterior tooth coupling and resistance and retention form of the final preparations, with no focus on placing the teeth in the correct position in the face. Practitioners did not have access to advanced periodontal, orthodontic, orthognathic surgery and plastic surgery tools that are currently available. With the advent and common usage of these new treatment modalities, the historical method of diagnosis and treatment planning is no longer adequately serving our profession. It is the purpose of this course to provide a systematic approach to diagnosis and treatment planning the complex interdisciplinary dental patient with a common language that may be used by the orthodontist, periodontist and oral and maxillofacial surgeon, as well as the restorative dentist. The four Global Diagnoses which dictate all interdisciplinary treatment planning will be defined. A set of questions will then be presented which will aid the interdisciplinary team in the diagnosis and treatment planning of the complex dental patient.

Educational Objectives:

- Provide a systematic approach to diagnosis and treatment planning the complex interdisciplinary dental patient
- Understand the four Global diagnoses which dictate all interdisciplinary treatment planning
- How to aid the interdisciplinary team in the diagnosis and treatment planning of the complex dental patient
