

Invites you to attend the following Emergency Service Training Program

Incident Investigation Workshop

Each year, events occur that impact emergency service organizations and the general public. VFIS believes that many of these incidents can be reduced. One of the best tools that enable us to reduce these incidents is the investigation of all incidents that occur, regardless of whether a death, injury or serious property damage was the result. It is in the investigation, and specifically in the information gathered during incident investigations, that we may find the solutions too many of the problems that cause a loss.
