

Mandy Eidson is an Atlanta native and young professional in the local community development scene. She currently serves as Resource Development and Strategic Initiatives Manager for the Atlanta Neighborhood Development Partnership (ANDP). Ms. Eidson received her Bachelor's degree in English from UNC-Chapel Hill and a Masters of Science in Urban Studies from 4Cities, a unique and innovative interdisciplinary master program funded by the European Union in which a cohort of international students spend two years studying in Brussels, Vienna, Copenhagen, and Madrid. Ms. Eidson is passionate about conducting purposeful research and impact measurement to promote equitable outcomes in metro Atlanta.