Mother's Day Sankalpa

The ancient Sages and Rishis began their worship with the following prayer, and so shall we follow their example: "Let all assemble together collaboratively. Let all speak together peacefully. Let all minds be in harmony."

When all thoughts are fixed in mantra, then consciousness becomes fixed in the memory of God, the most glorious.

When all thoughts become absorbed in mantra, then by means of mantra, all thoughts are offered to God in the divine fire.

This time and place is common to everyone. These thoughts and sentiments are common for everyone. So too, let our hearts be shared as well.

Let all thoughts, all minds, and all hearts be united so that everyone may enjoy peace and contentment.

Please read and contemplate every day.
