

Masterclass Safety Leadership Training

Developing a World Class Safety Culture

Krusenberg Herrgård
18th-19th September, 2019
Stockholm, Sweden

"Andrew Sharman is one of the world's best trainers within the safety culture field. He trained 115 of our leaders during 2018. The masterclass is very inspiring and have given us lots of good ideas of how we can improve our safety culture."

Per Renman, Occupational Safety Manager, Boliden

The training will be held in English and led by Prof. Andrew Sharman

Chief Executive RMS Switzerland
Vice President Institution of Occupational Safety & Health – IOSH, UK

SÄKU Säkerhets Kultur Nätverket

Masterclass Safety Leadership Training

The training includes

- The psychology behind human behaviour and how to apply pragmatic solutions
- Which leadership styles most effectively influence the way we think, work, lead and live
- Advanced leadership skills to drive a positive, sustainable impact in your workplace
- How to conduct high impact safety interventions using practical tools and straightforward jargon-free techniques
 - The '6 Eternal Rules of Employee Engagement'
- How a mindful approach to safety fosters a positive climate for performance improvement
- Certification from the International Institute of Risk & Safety Management (IIRSM)

For further information about the training, see <http://fromaccidentstozero.com/masterclass/>

If you are English speaking and interested to participate in the training, please contact the SÄKU sekretariat for more information. See www.saku.se

The training will be held in English and led by Prof. Andrew Sharman

Chief Executive RMS Switzerland
Vice President Institution of Occupational Safety & Health –
IOSH, UK

15 participants
Cost of training:
1350 EUR (SÄKU members)
1850 EUR (non-SÄKU members)

Price excludes cost of accommodation (to be paid per person on arrival to Krusenberg)

SÄKU Säkerhets
Kultur
Nätverket