The patch is clear, all the different modules are logically configured and the subpatches are properly named. While the coding is clear, a big point for improvement would be commenting the patch sections. Some of the processes are not entirely straight forward and it is always useful to comment the logic for future reference. The output is of a very high quality and all processes contribute to a very rich and engaging sound world. Well done!

CHRISTOS MICHALAKOS Abertay University, Dundee