Yardley, PA, October 4, 2019 – Gamma Iota Sigma (GIS), the insurance industry’s premier collegiate talent pipeline, presented its 48th Annual International Conference, the recruiting event of the year and the leading single access point to top talent. Held September 26-28 at the Hilton Anatole in Dallas, Texas, the conference was made possible by GIS Sustaining Partners, Conference Sponsors, and key grants.

628 faculty and students of all majors from 65 colleges and universities across North America, including 5 schools that do not yet have a GIS chapter, joined over 400 industry professionals for three days of inspired programming, featuring the largest career fair of its kind, hundreds of on-site interviews, keynote addresses, expert-led panels and educational sessions, Dive In and GammaSAID diversity & inclusion sessions, a chartering ceremony for new chapters, and more.

Nearly 600 interviews for internships and entry-level positions were conducted on-site by 22 GIS Sustaining Partner companies, and the 80 career fair exhibitors complemented the expertly curated and led educational session content, ensuring students of all backgrounds received widespread exposure to a broad representation of the industry and the many growing and diverse career paths and resources available. GIS was proud to present an exceptional speaker lineup, with Christopher Swift, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer with The Hartford, and Patricia Titus, Chief Privacy and Information Security Officer with Markel Corporation as the keynotes. Another 62 passionate subject matter experts and inspiring industry professionals led a combined total of 25 sessions over the three days, with the general sessions featuring an insightful panel, Plan. Respond. Recover: The Power of Resilience, moderated by Sean Kevelighan, CEO, Insurance Information Institute, and Courageous Conversations: Bringing the Value of "YOU" to the Table, a dynamic conversation on authenticity with Chubb’s Teresa Black, Executive Vice President, Commercial Surety and Kenneth Stephens, Senior Vice President, Global Client Executive, moderated by Tina Valdez, recent alumna of GIS’s Beta Xi chapter at St. Mary’s University. In addition, 6 Professional Association partners presented Exhibit Hall Showcases highlighting their organizations and resources and 11 students led 4 interactive GammaSAID diversity and inclusion sessions, promoting meaningful reflection, discussion, and action.

Thursday kicked off with industry and faculty roundtables addressing critical issues and hot topics in the talent realm, including an analysis of GIS’s 2019 Student Recruiting Survey data in the Recruiters Roundtable, delving into the student perspective on the recruiting process and highlighting key statistics and trends, followed by an inspiring and actionable presentation by Dr. Leroy Nunery, Founder and Principal of management consulting firm PlüsUltré, on The Journey of African-American Insurance Professionals, charting the history and correlations of access, diversity, and performance. The roundtables were followed by the GIS Board of Trustees Meeting, where the slate of 2019-20 Trustees and Officers was approved, welcoming Cheryl Matochik, Senior Vice President of Strategic Resources and Initiatives at the Council of Insurance Agents and Brokers (CIAB), to the helm as President and new chapters at the University of Southern California and the University of Mount Union were approved.

Continuing GIS’s vibrant partnership and leading role with the Global Dive In Festival and complementing the continued growth of the GammaSAID Council wherein 19 chapters now report having a D&I Officer, the conference was a proud Dive In host site for the 4th consecutive year, featuring a Diversity & Employee Resource Group (ERG) Fair and an interactive Inclusion Reception on Thursday, in addition to a robust slate of student-led sessions presented by GammaSAID (Solutions for Authenticity, Inclusion, and Diversity), a groundbreaking initiative providing the unique student voice and perspective in matters of D&I and fostering meaningful dialogue and action across the industry.

The Friday Night Awards Dinner capped off a day of extraordinary speakers and sessions as well as day two of the career fair, and celebrated the winners of the prestigious 2018-19 student, chapter, and alumni awards. Robin Joines of Sedgwick and current President of the Spencer Educational Foundation (Iota Chapter, Florida State University) and Jon Perry of Allied World (Alpha Kappa Chapter, Illinois State University) were recognized as the Alumni of the Year, and Travelers was recognized as the Industry Diversity and Inclusion Champion of the Year, an award bestowed by the GammaSAID Council on a GIS Sustaining Partner for their exemplary inclusive recruiting practices and industry-leading efforts and impact in the D&I space. The evening also provided an exciting opportunity for attendees to witness the chartering ceremony for new chapters: Gamma Nu at Samford University and Gamma Xi at Texas Christian University. Faculty, students, and supporters from both schools were in attendance.

Saturday marked the final day of the conference and featured professional development and leadership training, including an Etiquette Luncheon, Mastering the Business of Golf, and Insurance Jeopardy, as well as Insurance Nerds Day programming. In support of early childhood literacy and in partnership with the Insurance Industry Charitable Foundation (IICF), Sesame Workshop, GIS also held an especially engaging service project for children and families in the local Dallas community. The conference culminated in a lively closing Casino Night reception Saturday evening.

Committed to the future of talent and the vitality of the industry, GIS leads the growth and diversification of a robust talent pipeline and delivers innovative programs that underscore a commitment to showcasing the expansive breadth of opportunity throughout insurance to students of all backgrounds. There are many ways for companies to support the rising generation and engage directly with GIS and its students year-round, from the acclaimed Sustaining Partners Program, offering unparalleled benefits and exclusive access, to conference sponsorship, participation in the January Regional Conference Series, Virtual Career Fairs, the GIS Career Center, and opportunities directly with chapters. Currently underway is GIS's Boots on the Ground Month, a cornerstone of the One Campus at A Time initiative and a powerful call to action for industry professionals to get onto campuses throughout the month of October, share their stories with students, and impact the future of talent. In addition, GIS's 2019 Student Recruiting Survey will revisited in an October 10 webinar open to all to further explore survey data and its implications on the recruiting process.

The 2020 Gamma Iota Sigma Annual International Conference will be held in Dallas, Texas at the Hilton Anatole.
