BLACK BEAN EXTRACT CG3

90 CAPSULES

WHAT IS BLACK BEAN EXTRACT CG3?

The third new antioxidant, As seen on T.V., Black Bean Extract (C3G fat busters). The antioxidant aids you when you have consumed a high fat diet. When you take C3G, it actually turns off the gene expression for fat storage and turns on the gene for fat metabolism.

Research has found that even though you may be having a high fat diet, you still don't store the fat. Black Bean extract may also contribute to good heart health. Black Bean extract also contains compounds called polyphenols that are useful for those with elevated cholesterol, because they act as antioxidants in the blood stream, preventing cholesterol from oxidation by free radicals.

Our Meta Labs Black Bean Extract has been selling off of shelves all over the country and has made millions of sales from online customers. It has been introduced on many television talk shows about its use and its results. It is recommended that each person only consume two capsules each day. The supplement does not appear to have any drastic side effects while slowing down the fat absorption when taken.

Our Meta Labs Black Bean Extract is 100% pure, natural and apparently effective. The supplement does not have any additives or fillers in it. It is a recommendation to check with a physician before taking anything of this kind and only adults with the intentions of losing weight should take this supplement. Pregnant women should never take a weight loss supplement during their pregnancy.

1 gram of black bean extract is equivalent to 20-30 mg. of C3G (Black Bean.)

- May help with Brain Function and activity
